Special thanks are due NMDGF employees Lisa Evans, who handled the State Wildlife Grant documentation necessary to fund this planning effort, and Tina Tenorio who so conscientiously maintained the computerized contact lists and sent the e-mails through which we made people aware of opportunities to participate. Particular appreciation is extended to Kendal Young and Veronica Lopez of NMSU's Center for Applied Spatial Ecology and Ken Boykin of SWReGAP. Their expertise, professionalism, endurance, and tenacity made the CWCS for New Mexico a reality.

William D. Graves
CWCS Coordinator

We are indebted to all that participated in the public involvement events. We received valuable constructive criticism and insight to improve this document.

The listing herein of agencies, institutions, conservation organizations, sportsmen associations, agriculture interests, other interests, or individual participants should not be taken to imply that they agree with all portions of the CWCS or with the CWCS initiative in general.
