The Citizen Advisory Committee (CAC) is a volunteer working group with the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish that represents the Habitat Stamp Program. Members of the CAC work with program and project managers from the Department, Bureau of Land Management (BLM), and US Forest Service (USFS) to represent New Mexico public interest as it pertains to fish and wildlife habitat restoration projects that occur on BLM and USFS lands throughout New Mexico. Members of the CAC are encouraged to support community outreach and work as a group to prioritize restoration project opportunities with Department, BLM, and USFS program partners. The CAC convenes in at least 3 public meetings per year and is invited on field tours to project locations on a semiannual basis.
