Contract # 16 516 0000 00029

For the period July 1, 2016 through December 7, 2016

Rehabilitation:

During the period we received a total of 375 animals in our rehabilitation facility

208 song birds

77 mammals

66 raptors

9 waterfowl

12 reptiles and 3 Golden Eagles

3 Golden Eagles

We have released 80 animals back to the wild and have 6 animals currently in care.

191 of the animals were either dead on arrival, euthanized on arrival due to severe injury or died within hours of arrival. 8 animals were transferred.

375 animals

-191 DOA or died within hours

=184

-14 animals in care or transferred

=170 animals

80 released back to the wild

47% release rate

This is typical for the second half of our calendar year as animals that come in in the fall are typically injured or sick. Animals coming in before July are often orphaned and have no serious injury. Our release rate is quite high for these animals.

Public Response

During the time period we responded to 300 calls from the public with wildlife questions or concerns

We had 479 visitors to the Center

We provided 20 programs, mostly to school groups, with 683 participants

Assessment/Evaluation

- Students in our Española 4th-6th grade River Classroom completed Anticipation Guides before and after each session in which we presented new material as an assessment of learning for these classes. These assessments allowed us to compare what students know (or think they know) before class to what they know after class. These Anticipation Guides demonstrated that students are learning the material and allowed us to determine if any areas need reviewing or clarification in a later class.

- Students in our 5th-6th grader River Classroom in Tierra Amarilla completed similar Anticipation Guides at the beginning of the year, but this method of assessment was not effective for this group. This group of students has difficulty translating what they learn to something they can write on paper. When the Anticipation Guide questions were asked verbally, the students had no problem completing them and demonstrating what they have learned. We are working on a new method of assessment for this group for the upcoming school year.
- Students in our Española 4th-6th grade River Classroom spent the last few class periods inventing and developing games that tested knowledge of riparian ecosystems, water quality, adaptations, and cell organelles. Students played these games with their parents at our Open House to demonstrate their knowledge from the year and test what their parents knew. These games demonstrated that our students have a good grasp of the concepts taught in River Classroom this year.
- On the final day of class, students in our Española 4th-6th grade River Classroom completed a quiz challenge that incorporated not only knowledge questions based on material taught throughout the year, but also tasks such as “Identify a native plant species”. Students completed this quiz in groups. Each student checked a box to let us know whether they had been able to answer the question on their own or whether they needed help from their group. Because these assessments are not graded, students are honest. Students who had completed the year in River Classroom were able to answer all of the questions and needed little help. Students who joined the program in January were able to answer the questions pertaining to the subjects they learned from January through May.
- 7th graders from McCurdy Charter School were assessed on a trip-by-trip basis through Anticipation Guides for that particular trip. This group focused on habitat exploration, and these students explored many new places.
- 9th-10th graders from McCurdy Charter School were assessed via formative and summative assessment, including a formal final exam (required by the school). Students demonstrated a range of growth primarily related to attendance, but most students were able to discuss New Mexico resources, habitats, and wildlife in Socratic Seminars held throughout the months of March, April, and May. These group discussions allowed us to evaluate student learning beyond class material.
- 7th-9th graders from Española were assessed by Anticipation Guides at the beginning of the year and then their final assessment was completing their handmade kayak.
- 5th-6th graders from Tierra Amarilla Elementary ended their year by creating posters plotting and summarizing their water quality and benthic macroinvertebrate data on the Rio Chama and Brazos River. Students divided into groups and explained their posters, their results, and what their results mean for the health of the riparian ecosystem to a large group of parents at a community open house event.

Other Measurable Outcomes

- 47 people showed up to our Española Open House for River Classroom and too many to count showed up for Open House in Tierra Amarilla
- 4 students took home handmade kayaks and paddles so that they can continue to explore New Mexico's waterways
- 2 week-long summer science camps offered to communities in northern New Mexico with few to no other summer camp choices. Students in these camps learned about water in New Mexico and where it comes from and had fun exploring the water in kayaks and canoes. One more summer camp is planned for July.

- 28 5th-6th graders from Tierra Amarilla Elementary (Chama Valley Independent School District, 2016-2017 school year)
- 15 10th graders from McCurdy Charter School (2016-2017 school year)

Grand Total March through December 2016: 222 students

This funding supported our River Classroom programs for the first half of the 2016-2017 school year, as well as three summer science camps during the summer of 2016. River Classroom is an experiential science program that meets with students either once or twice per month for the entirety of the school year. Our goal is to take the science standards that students must learn in the classroom and make them place-based, with rigorous science being taught in natural environments in the communities where students live. River Classroom has achieved a great many activities over the last calendar year, most of which can be found on our blog at <https://nmwceducation.org/>.

Specific activities for these programs included the following:

- Twenty three children in 4th-6th grades from northern New Mexico attended week-long summer science camps at either Abiquiu Lake or Heron Lake State Park. These students studied the properties of water, physics principles related to water, the ecosystems surrounding the lake, and astronomical phenomena. Students kayaked on the lake, went swimming and fishing, and shared their knowledge with their parents during a Thursday night camp out.
- In 2016-2017 twelve Española students in grades 7-11 and fifteen 10th grade students from McCurdy Charter School are exploring different ecosystems of New Mexico. Once per month for the entire school year students learn the science regulating the ecosystems. These students can now list the common plants and animals in these ecosystems, explain why these ecosystems are important to species diversity, and list the potential effects of climate change to these ecosystems, as well as how these ecosystems impact our communities.
- In 2016-2017 eighteen students in grades 4-6 from the Española Public School District are exploring the ecosystems of the Rio Chama below Abiquiu Dam and learning basic chemistry and biology principles that will form the basis of their place-based science curriculum this year.
- In 2016-2017 twenty-four students in grades 4-5 from Chama Elementary School are exploring the Rio Chama below Chama and the Rio Chamita in the Edward Sargent Wildlife Management Area and have begun the process of learning the chemistry and biology principles of the curriculum. These students have also met their local Game Warden and learned the educational path that leads to various science-based careers in northern New Mexico

- In 2016-2017 twenty eight students in grades 5-6 at Tierra Amarilla Elementary have spent the fall exploring the Rio Chama and the Brazos River in their community and have begun their basic science curriculum.
- The students from Chama Elementary, Tierra Amarilla Elementary, and the 4th-6th grade students from the Española Public School District can now interpret the periodic table, use a GPS to find latitude and longitude, explain the concept of a watershed and why it matters, understand and explain the distribution of water in New Mexico including where our water comes from, give examples of erosion and how it impacts water quality in local rivers, test water quality and analyze the test results, and collect and identify benthic macroinvertebrates. In the spring these students will expand on these skills and learn to present their scientific data to the community.
- Students from all over northern New Mexico have collected water quality data and benthic macroinvertebrate data on the Rio Chama and its tributaries, leading us to a better picture of the health of this important watershed.
